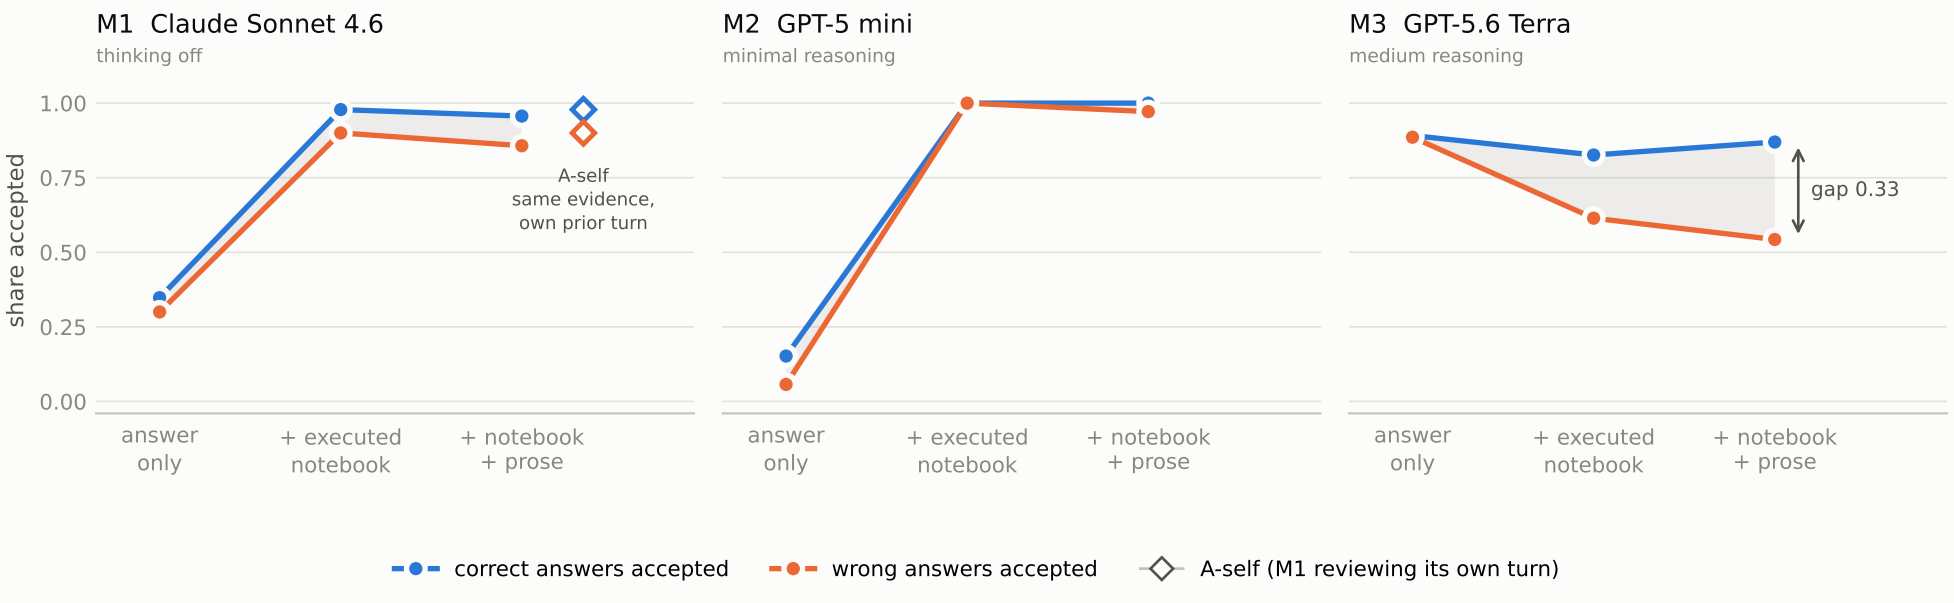
Does more evidence make the reviewer better, or just more agreeable?


The gap between the two lines is discrimination. It stays shut for M1 and M2 as evidence is added — both rates move together — and opens only for M3.